“... Времени, чтобы объявлять о конкурсе для создания эскиза ордена Красного Знамени, не было, и тогда обратились к художнику В.В. Денисову — сотруднику Коллегии по делам музеев и охраны памятников искусства и старины при Наркомпросе. Уже через две недели эскиз ордена “Красное Знамя” был разработан, и знак ордена выполнен в натуральную величину. Первые 150 латунных орденских знаков изготовила фирма “Братья Бовзей”, и они были переданы в Реввоенсовет республики.

Орден Красного Знамени утверждался менее через год после свершения Октябрьской революции, и тогда еще никто не знал, каким будет советский герб. Кроме того, они оказались большими по размеру и плохо и нечетко отделанными. Когда Л.Д. Троцкий, председатель Реввоенсовета республики, впервые увидел орденский знак, то остался очень недоволен им. И отправил в Москву, председателю ВЦИК Я.М. Свердлову, телеграмму весьма гневного содержания: “Орден Красного Знамени невозможен, слишком груб и снабжен таким механизмом для крепления на одежду, что носить его практически невозможно. Выдавать его не буду, ибо вызовет всеобщее разочарование. Настаиваю на прекращении выделки и передаче сего дела военному ведомству. Орден ждут несколько месяцев, а получили бляху носильщика, только менее удобную. Знак должен быть в три-четыре раза меньше и сделан из лучшего материала”.

Заказ на изготовление ордена Красного Знамени был передан Петроградскому монетному двору...

Почти вся партия знаков была уничтожена, кроме нескольких знаков, которые было решено передать в основные музеи страны.

Award Certificate for the Order of the Red Banner of RSFSR.

Large early version, about 200mm x 340mm. Awarded with the Order of the Red Banner of RSFSR #2463 to Bazhenov M.L., pilot-observer, 34th reconnaissance aviation detachment, on April 27, 1920. On September 15, 1919, he received an order to scout the front lines and the disposition of enemy forces opposing the 8th Army, with whom the HQ of the 9th Army did not have contact. Comrade Bazhenov searched for the HQ of the 8th Army in incredibly difficult flight conditions, with unfavorable weather, low fuel levels, and a motor not operating properly. He had to land at some point, in order to eliminate the causes interfering with his flight. Regardless of all obstacles, the pilot successfully completed his mission, and did everything necessary to explore the enemy disposition. The return flight was also completed in unfavorable conditions and under heavy rifle and machine gun fire. Hand-signed by the commander of the 9th Army.

Наградная Грамота к ордену Боевого Красного Знамени РСФСР.

Ранний тип, большой размер (примерно 200мм x 340мм). Награжден Баженов М.Л., летчик-наблюдатель 34 разв. авиа-отряда (орден Боевого Красного Знамени РСФСР # 2463), выдана 27 апреля 1920.

“15 сентября 1919 получил задание выяснить линию фронта и расположение сил противника против 8 армии, с которой штаб 9 армии не имел связи. Поднявшись на самолете, т. Баженов розыскал штаб 8 армии, при невероятно трудных условиях полета, т.к. погода не благоприятствовала, был недостаток горючего, и мотор работал ненормально, благодаря чему ему пришлось спускаться на землю для устранения причин мешающих полету. Несмотря на все эти препятствия, летчик благодаря проявленной им энергии выполнил возложенную на него задачу, сделав всё нужное в штабе армии и выяснив расположение сил противника. Обратный полет тоже совершался при неблагоприятных условиях и под ураганным ружейным и пулеметным огнем противника.”

*Золотая Медаль Международной Ленинской премии за "Укрепление мира между народами" (перевыдана с Международной Сталинской Премии) Председателю Международной следственной комиссии поджоге Рейстага (1933).
Присуждена в 1954 г. Денису Притту.*

3114 International Lenin Prize for Peace documented Set to Denis Nowell Pritt, Q.C., and presentations to Pritt on his 70th Birthday, along with related items. The medal set includes:

- The Gold International Lenin Prize for Peace medal, in original burgundy case of issue, official issue as the De-Stalinization exchange/replacement for the Stalin Prize for Peace medal.
- Soviet Peace Committee gilt Medal in box of issue; with Testimonial Diploma, November 1969, and official English version on a separate sheet, both signed by Committee officials.
- B&W photos of Pritt, wearing the Lenin Peace Prize and other medals, with Walter Ulbricht.

German Democratic Republic Presentations to Pritt on his 70th Birthday include:

- Leipzig Honorary Citizenship, 22 September 1957, vellum scroll, 300 x 602 mm, bestowed by the City Council and the Senate of the City of Leipzig upon "Denis Nowell Pritt ... Holder of the Lenin Peace Prize... for recognition of his courageous behavior in the London Counter Trial of the Reichstag Fire Trial, which, next to the steadfast behavior of Georgi Dimitrov, effectively contributed to the unmasking of the Fascist guilt..." The scroll is rolled into the gilt-embossed leather tube of issue (410 x 82 mm), which fits into a presentation box with removable lid. The inside of which contains a fitted concave "bed" for the tube to rest upon. (Leipzig was the site of the official Reichstag Fire trial of G. Dimitrov, etc. in 1933)
- Union of Democratic Jurists of Germany patent leather presentation box (220 x 268 mm.), the cover gilt inscribed to Pritt on his 70th birthday. The box contains 24 b&w photographs of the Reichstag Fire trial, participants, documents etc.

Also includes:

- Books by Pritt: Light on Moscow (1940); The USSR, Our Ally (1941); A New World Grows: USSR 1917-1943 (1943); Russia is for Peace (1952)
- Books by Pritt about the Reichstag Fire: The Burning of the Reichstag: Official Findings of the Committee of Inquiry (1933); Der Reichstagsbrand (Berlin, 1959), title page autographed in ink by Pritt.
- Book about the Reichstag Fire: Reichstag Fire: Ashes of Democracy (1972).

The Lenin Peace Prize medal to Pritt is only the third ever auctioned in the Western World (and the first De-Stalinization exchange/replacement ever auctioned); fewer than 100 were ever awarded. Famous Laureates include Khrushchev, Castro, Picasso, Brezhnev, and Mandela.

Pritt's 1957 Leipzig honorary citizenship was the twelfth such honor from a major German city ever presented to a foreigner, and is apparently the only such honor to a foreigner ever auctioned; it was the first such honor bestowed by Leipzig, and the first from any major German city to a foreigner, since World War II. Its cleverly elaborate physical format is extremely rare, as most such German city honors were in simple folio format. (Until the 1970's, Nobel Peace Prize diplomas were presented in rolled, rather than folio, format.)

This lot may be by far the most historically significant lot pertaining to the Reichstag Fire ever auctioned.

Denis Nowell Pritt, (1887-1972), barrister, member of the British Parliament (1935-1950), and a Queen's Councillor, is considered the most universally significant lawyer of the middle third of the 20th Century. In 1954, he received a Stalin Peace Prize. (In 1956, Destalinization led to each Laureate being asked to exchange the Stalin Peace Prize medal for a Lenin Peace Prize medal.)

Pritt gained world renown as chairman of the international Legal Commission of Inquiry (held in London) into the 1933 Reichstag Fire, one of the most controversial crimes of modern times whose impact and origins is still hotly debated by scholars. The Commission's Findings that the fire was likely started by the Nazis, not the Communists, created a bombshell heard around the world, and probably helped much to stimulate anti-Nazi activism in many countries. Years later, Winston Churchill replaced G. Dimitrov and Pritt as the clear symbol of the "respectable" anti-Nazi movement in the West.

The Findings of this "Counter-trial" were announced by Pritt in London on 28 September 1933, days after the start of the Nazi government's trial in Leipzig of a group of Communists on charges of having plotted the arson. Hitler, who had become Reich's Chancellor weeks before the 27 February fire, had attributed it to a Communist conspiracy, using this charge to justify his immediate suspension of civil liberties guaranteed in the Weimar Republic Constitution. The German trial judge's subsequent acquittal of Dimitrov and other Communist defendants was widely seen as a vindication of Pritt's Findings.

Pritt has been viewed by the Western Right as a classic "fellow traveler", but was never a member of the Communist Party. His services were in the highest demand from business interests, but he would never take a case against "the little guy". He would defend, usually pro bono, victims of political prosecutions, the most famous being Jomo Kenyatta, Julius Nyerere, and Ho Chi Minh, whose life was arguably saved by Pritt's intervention in 1931.

3115 Joliot-Curie Peace Medal of the World Council of Peace documented Set to Denis Nowell Pritt, 1969

- Award Diploma, 220 x 311 mm, which slips into a folder through a cord which wraps vertically across the folder binder, signed by the General Secretary of the World Council of Peace.

*The Gold Medal of Peace was founded in 1951. It was renamed in 1959 the Joliot-Curie Medal of Peace, to honor Joliot-Curie as its first president. As of 2009, the World Council of Peace had issued a total of 168 Peace and other medals, but this specimen is the first ever offered for auction in the Western World.

Also included:

- B&W photograph of Pritt wearing the Joliot-Curie Peace Medal and other medals, with Walter Ulbricht.

The World Peace Council is the Soviet-fronted affiliate of the U.S. Peace Council. It describes itself as a "an anti-imperialist, democratic, independent and non-aligned international movement of mass action." It is a non-governmental organization (NGO) member of the United Nations. The WPC was founded in Prague during a "Peace Congress" sponsored by the Soviets and their Czech and other Eastern European satellites. It was headquartered in Helsinki, Finland until the 1990s when it moved to Greece.

Planned and controlled by the International Department of the Communist Party of the USSR, the WPC claimed to represent 600 million "organizers for peace" worldwide. It declined during Gorbachev's tenure in office, but has revived in recent years. The most recent Assembly of the WPC took place in April 2008 in Caracas, Venezuela, involving more than 280 peace delegates from 123 Organizations from 83 countries.
